

HP

Helen Perry

Corporate & Personal Image Consultant

The College Interview

Today's successful high school students think and communicate much differently than their parents did as teenagers. Unfortunately, this difference in style, heavily influenced by social media and technology, can often put students at a disadvantage when they are required to communicate with adults in a traditional face-to-face setting. Teens today talk less than their parents did. These consulting sessions, customized to meet the needs of each student, will prepare a college-bound student to communicate comfortably and confidently with admissions counselors and other university professionals.

Two Private 60-Minute Sessions Include:

- When To Be Seated
- Eye Contact
- Social Distancing
- Greeting-Handshake or Elbow Tap?
- Tone of Voice/Articulation/Diction
- 10 Most Frequently Asked Interview Questions
- Topics/Verbiage To Avoid
- Most Common Mistakes
- Good Questions To Ask
- The Skype Interview
- Interviewing Over a Meal
- Non-verbal Communication
- Follow-up

Ms. Perry is in her 33rd year as a Corporate and Personal Image Consultant and Humorist specializing in Impression Management. Throughout her distinguished career, she has taught etiquette and character building classes to thousands of elementary, middle school and secondary students. Having addressed students at The University of Houston, Texas A & M and Rice University, she is familiar with different cultures at various universities. Her vast corporate clientele includes Deloitte, Memorial Hermann Healthcare System, Tiffany & Co., Neiman Marcus, Martha Turner Properties and Baker Botts, LLP. Students emerge from coaching sessions with the confidence and clarity needed to present the very best version of themselves in today's competitive college admissions market.

Individual Fee: $325 Semi-Private Sessions: $200 (up to three students)

Helen Perry
hperry@helen-perry.com
www.helen-perry.com

716 Augusta Houston, TX 77057

713.206.1800